CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Özak's clinical work centers on musculoskeletal conditions and orthopedic disorders affecting the bones, joints, and soft tissues. He evaluates and treats patients with orthopedic trauma, drawing on his years of experience in traumatology settings, as well as patients with non-traumatic orthopedic complaints.

Whether treatment is conservative or surgical depends on the individual patient's diagnosis, general health, imaging findings, and goals. Dr. Özak reviews each case on its own terms and discusses the available options, together with their expected course and possible limitations, so that patients can make an informed decision about how to proceed.
