CLINICAL FOCUS

Ömür Akgül treats musculoskeletal injuries, sports injuries, post-operative functional limitations and impaired mobility. A course of care usually begins with a musculoskeletal assessment, in which she examines joint range of motion, muscle strength, movement patterns and the specific activities a patient finds difficult or painful.

Her treatment methods include therapeutic exercise prescription and manual therapy. In post-operative rehabilitation, she works with patients after surgery to restore movement, strength and confidence in the affected area, following the guidance of the treating surgeon regarding precautions and timelines.
