CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Timuralp's work centers on the assessment and care of patients with cardiovascular conditions. His subspecialty is cardiopulmonary rehabilitation, which is concerned with rehabilitation support for patients whose heart and lung function requires structured follow-up. In this setting, attention is given to the patient's cardiovascular assessment and to the rehabilitation needs that follow from it.

His background in internal medicine informs how he approaches cardiology patients, particularly where cardiovascular findings need to be considered alongside a patient's wider medical picture. The areas listed for his practice are cardiology, cardiopulmonary rehabilitation, cardiovascular care and internal medicine.
