CLINICAL FOCUS

A large part of Dr. Duran's work concerns common childhood illnesses of the respiratory system. She sees children with croup and with other upper respiratory tract illnesses, assessing the child's symptoms, general condition and history before discussing how the illness may be managed and which signs parents should watch for.

Dr. Duran also evaluates children with iron deficiency and anemia. This work typically involves reviewing the child's diet and history, interpreting laboratory results, and considering whether further investigation is needed before a treatment plan is discussed with the family.

INTERNATIONAL PATIENTS

Dr. Duran consults in Turkish and English, and interpreters can be arranged for families who speak other languages. Before a visit, the international patient team coordinates the collection of prior reports and imaging, for example laboratory and pathology results, X-ray or ultrasound reports, previous prescriptions, discharge summaries and any operative notes, and arranges appointments...
