CLINICAL FOCUS

A central part of Dr. Yönal's practice is inflammatory bowel disease, including the treatment of Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis. Care for these conditions typically involves diagnosis, assessment of disease activity and planning of long-term medical management, adjusted to the individual patient's course.

Her practice also covers liver diseases, including hepatitis, as well as biliary tract diseases and pancreatic diseases. She evaluates patients with malabsorption and treats hemorrhoidal and anorectal disorders.
