CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Kocakaya's clinical work covers a broad range of internal medicine conditions. Thyroid disorders form a central part of his practice, alongside metabolic concerns such as prediabetes, type 1 diabetes and type 2 diabetes treatment, and obesity.

A further area of his practice is the assessment of liver diseases and pancreatic and biliary tract diseases. He also offers chronic disease management, which typically involves structured follow-up, review of laboratory results and adjustment of treatment over time in coordination with other specialties where needed.
