CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Çolak evaluates and treats patients with musculoskeletal and nerve disorders, with particular attention to spine health. His areas of expertise include lumbar disc herniation and cervical disc herniation, frozen shoulder syndrome, sports injuries, and knee injuries.

He also cares for patients with fibromyalgia, provides rehabilitation for people living with Parkinson's disease, and offers treatment for lipedema. In keeping with his interest in neuromuscular diseases, his approach centers on assessing how a condition limits a patient's function and on planning rehabilitation and pain-relief measures...
