CLINICAL FOCUS

A substantial part of Dr. Fırat's practice is obesity surgery. He evaluates patients for bariatric procedures, including sleeve gastrectomy and gastric bypass, and his research has addressed the management of complications and weight regain after these operations. Robotic surgery is among his listed subspecialties.

His digestive system surgery practice covers benign and malignant conditions. This includes the surgical management of cholecystitis, inguinal and umbilical hernia repair, colorectal surgery, and oncological surgery for cancers such as liver cancer and small intestine cancer. He also treats hemorrhoids and other anorectal diseases.
