CLINICAL FOCUS

Anesthesiology is the medical field concerned with anesthesia and the care of patients before, during and after procedures that require it. In general terms, this includes assessing a patient ahead of a planned procedure, discussing the anesthetic plan with the patient and the treating team, monitoring the patient while the procedure takes place and supporting recovery afterwards.

Reanimation, the second field listed on this profile, is the branch of the specialty concerned with supporting and restoring vital functions in patients who are critically ill or unstable. As with anesthesia care, the measures taken are decided case by case, according to the patient's condition and in coordination with the other physicians involved.
