CLINICAL FOCUS

A significant part of Dr. Özer's practice is devoted to disorders of the menstrual cycle. He assesses women with menstrual irregularities, including cycles that are unusually short, long, heavy, or unpredictable, and looks for possible underlying causes before discussing appropriate management.

Dr. Özer's subspecialty interest is menopause. He provides assessment and care for women approaching or going through the menopausal transition, as well as for those with concerns in the years that follow. This may include a review of symptoms, relevant medical history, and previous treatments, followed by a discussion of the options that may be suitable for the individual patient.
