CLINICAL FOCUS

A large part of Dr. Atılgan's work concerns the newborn period. She provides newborn follow-up and monitors premature infants, including those affected by bronchopulmonary dysplasia, respiratory distress syndrome, and hypoxic-ischemic encephalopathy.

In older infants, children, and adolescents, Dr. Atılgan diagnoses and treats pediatric infectious diseases and evaluates children with febrile seizures, a common reason for parents to seek pediatric advice. Her areas of expertise also include PFAPA syndrome, childhood constipation, and pediatric urinary incontinence.
