CLINICAL FOCUS

Rabia Aktaş's clinical focus is audiology, with particular attention to hearing assessment and auditory evaluation. Hearing assessment is used to establish how well a patient hears and to document the degree and pattern of any hearing loss.

Auditory evaluation extends this work to a broader examination of how the auditory system is functioning. Depending on the question being asked, the evaluation may help clarify the nature of a hearing complaint and support the referring ENT physician in deciding on further investigation or management.
