CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Busery's clinical work covers a range of cardiovascular conditions. He evaluates and treats patients with heart failure, coronary artery disease, atherosclerosis, angina, heart attack and ischaemic heart disease. His practice also includes heart valve diseases, among them aortic valve stenosis, as well as arrhythmias and myocarditis.

Management of cardiovascular risk factors forms part of his work, including the assessment and treatment of hypertension and hyperlipidaemia. The approach for each patient depends on the individual's symptoms, medical history, cardiovascular risk factors and the findings of the clinical examination and any tests that are performed. Dr.
