CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Zengin's clinical interests center on infections that are common in adult practice. She evaluates and manages sexually transmitted infections, including syphilis and HPV, as well as HIV and AIDS. She also cares for patients with hepatitis and with lower respiratory tract infections.

Alongside the diagnosis and treatment of established infections, Dr. Zengin addresses prevention. She advises on adult vaccination and provides travel health consultations, which may include a review of the destination, planned activities and the patient's existing health conditions so that appropriate vaccines and precautions can be...
