CLINICAL FOCUS

A large part of Dr. Yılmaz's practice involves dental implants and the procedures that prepare the jaw for them. Where bone volume is insufficient, she performs sinus lifting and bone grafting so that implants can be placed in a stable position.

Dr. Yılmaz also treats temporomandibular joint disorders and other jaw joint disorders, as well as bruxism (teeth grinding). Depending on the findings, bruxism treatment may include night guard therapy or Botox for teeth grinding. Her surgical work further includes cyst surgery, routine tooth extraction and impacted tooth extraction.
