CLINICAL FOCUS

A significant part of Dr. Şüküroğlu's work involves mood and anxiety conditions. She assesses and treats patients with major depression, bipolar disorder, anxiety disorders and panic disorder. She also sees patients with post-traumatic stress disorder and atypical psychosis.

Sleep-related complaints form another area of her practice. She evaluates patients with insomnia and other sleep disorders, and her areas of expertise also include sleep apnea. In addition, she works with patients presenting with hyperactivity, and she offers family and marriage counselling, which addresses relationship and family concerns with individuals and couples.
