CLINICAL FOCUS

The main part of Dr. Cantürk's work is perioperative anesthesia care. This includes the assessment of patients before an operation, the planning and administration of anesthesia during the procedure and the monitoring of the patient in the period immediately after surgery.

Dr. Cantürk is also involved in pain management and critical care support. Pain management in this setting refers to the control of pain around the time of surgery and, where appropriate, the evaluation of patients with ongoing pain, with treatment options discussed on an individual basis.
