CLINICAL FOCUS

A significant part of Dr. Demirsoy's work is in urogynecology, which addresses disorders affecting the female pelvic floor and lower urinary tract. This includes the assessment and management of urinary incontinence and other bladder health concerns.

Dr. Demirsoy also sees patients for menopause-related symptoms, for the treatment of sexual dysfunction, and for endometriosis treatment. In each of these areas, the suitability of a given option depends on the individual patient's findings, medical history, and personal circumstances, and decisions are made together with the patient after the available options have been reviewed.
