CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Koşargelir's clinical work centers on cosmetic dermatology, with laser hair removal as her listed area of expertise. Laser hair removal is a procedure that directs light energy at the hair follicle with the aim of reducing unwanted hair. Before any treatment is planned, Dr.

Patients who are uncertain whether laser hair removal is appropriate for them, or who have had previous cosmetic dermatology treatments elsewhere, can have these points reviewed during the consultation. Dr. Koşargelir explains the options that are suitable in each case as well as the limitations of the procedure, so that patients can make an informed decision about whether to proceed.
