Treatment of Respiratory

CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Şahin's clinical focus is the evaluation and clinical management of respiratory diseases. Her work begins with a structured respiratory evaluation, which typically includes a detailed review of the patient's symptoms and medical history, a clinical examination, and an assessment of any existing test results or imaging the patient...

Following evaluation, she is involved in the clinical management of respiratory conditions. This may include explaining findings to the patient, discussing possible treatment options in plain language, and following the patient over the course of treatment.
