CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Gülşeni's clinical focus is on occupational medicine and preventive care. She carries out preventive health screenings and wellness examinations, which aim to identify health issues at an early stage and to review a patient's overall condition in relation to their work and daily life.

She also provides primary care consultations, in which patients can raise general health concerns, discuss symptoms and receive medical guidance. Where a finding requires further evaluation by another specialty, this is discussed with the patient so that appropriate next steps can be considered.
