CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Şahin's practice centers on the assessment and management of kidney diseases and kidney failure. This includes evaluating how well the kidneys are functioning, identifying the underlying cause where possible and planning care that is appropriate to the stage and course of the condition.

She also sees patients with diabetic nephropathy, a kidney complication of diabetes, and with hydronephrosis, in which the kidney becomes enlarged because urine cannot drain normally. Nephrotic syndrome, a group of signs that may indicate damage to the filtering units of the kidney, is a further area of her work.
