A central part of Dr. Yapalı's practice is the diagnosis and management of inflammatory bowel disease, including Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis. She performs endoscopy as part of the assessment and follow-up of digestive conditions.

Dr. Yapalı also treats hemorrhoids and other anorectal diseases. In each case the approach is guided by the patient's history, examination findings, laboratory results and imaging, and treatment options are discussed with the patient on that basis.
