CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Aslan's listed areas of expertise are pregnancy and gynecologic disorders. In the area of pregnancy, his work concerns the medical follow-up of women during pregnancy within the scope of obstetric care. In the area of gynecologic disorders, his practice concerns the assessment and management of conditions affecting the female reproductive system.

Because the appropriate course of care differs from one patient to another, Dr. Aslan discusses the available options with each patient after a clinical assessment. Decisions about further diagnostic steps or treatment are made together with the patient, taking into account her medical history and current condition.
