CLINICAL FOCUS

A substantial part of Dr. Khalilov's practice concerns the knee. He assesses and treats knee injuries, including cruciate ligament tears and meniscus tears, as well as muscle tears and other sports injuries.

Dr. Khalilov also treats osteoarthritis of the large joints. For patients with advanced joint wear, he performs hip replacement surgery and knee replacement surgery, where these are considered appropriate after assessment. His work further includes foot and ankle surgery, deformity surgery, and shoulder and elbow surgery.
