CLINICAL FOCUS

A large part of Dr. Er's practice is dedicated to disorders of the spine. He assesses and treats patients with cervical disc herniation and lumbar disc herniation, and with narrowing of the spinal canal in the neck or lower back (cervical spinal stenosis and lumbar spinal stenosis). He also evaluates patients with loss of lumbar lordosis, a change in the normal curvature of the lower spine.

Beyond degenerative spinal conditions, Dr. Er's expertise includes spinal tumors and spinal cord tumors, meningioma and hydrocephalus. For these conditions, evaluation typically involves careful review of existing imaging and any prior treatment, followed by a discussion of the options that are suitable for the patient's situation.
