CLINICAL FOCUS

The first of Dr. Sönmez's areas of expertise is anesthesiology. In general terms, this field is concerned with the assessment of a patient before anesthesia, the administration and monitoring of anesthesia during a procedure, and the follow-up of the patient in the recovery period.

Her second area of expertise is reanimation, which relates to the support of vital functions in patients whose condition is critical or unstable. Her third area is clinical toxicology, the field concerned with the assessment and management of poisoning and of harmful effects of medicines, chemicals, and other substances.
