CLINICAL FOCUS

A substantial part of Dr. Sakin's practice is the evaluation and management of inflammatory bowel disease, including Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis. He also assesses and treats patients with Barrett's esophagus, dysphagia, and reflux, gastritis and dyspepsia, as well as pancreatic diseases and liver and biliary tract diseases.

His endoscopic work includes gastroscopy and colonoscopy for diagnosis and follow-up, ERCP for conditions of the bile ducts and pancreas, and endoscopic sleeve gastropasty. Whether a particular procedure is appropriate is decided after a clinical assessment and a review of any prior imaging and reports.
