CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Karaca's clinical work centers on outpatient pediatric care. In this setting she sees infants, children and adolescents for routine check-ups and for the assessment of common childhood complaints, with the aim of recognizing concerns and deciding whether further evaluation or referral is needed.

Parent counselling is another area of her practice. She works with parents on everyday questions about their child's health, development and care, and helps them understand what to expect at each stage. Where a child's condition requires care beyond an outpatient setting, she can guide families toward the appropriate next steps.
